WEEKLY CONNECTION WITH MICHAEL LOY

Presidents Day

Next week on Monday our nation celebrates Presidents Day. Love or disagree with them, we have had 45 Presidents in our nearly 250 years as a country. Presidents Day is always celebrated on the third Monday in February. Originally established in 1885 in recognition of President George Washington, the holiday became popularly known as Presidents Day in the 1970’s. While several states still have individual holidays honoring the birthdays of Washington, Abraham Lincoln and other figures, Presidents Day is now popularly viewed as a day to celebrate all U.S. presidents, past and present.

Leadership matters in all contexts, but the Presidency has always served as a powerful symbol and their words matter.

This year I am hearing the words of Abraham Lincoln:

“Whatever you are, be a good one.”

His words are a resounding inspiration, then and now, as we pursue our work in this world. Working to the best of our ability in all efforts. Whatever you find yourself doing this Presidents Day, take a moment to think of these words and Make it a Great Day!

NOTICE FROM CCITC
Change to Default Printer for All NCHC Computers and Users

CCITC is working on updates and settings for printers within the NCHC Network. With the change last week of default printers to SecurePrint03, we are ready to begin turning off direct printing to Multi-function Devices (MFDs) across NCHC. This final step is being made to enhance security and client privacy. A schedule of which devices will be adjusted is listed below.

For devices on the Wausau Campus we will have someone at each machine to test print release as we turn sharing off on each device. For the remote sites on Thursday, the helpdesk will reach out as we do each and have someone test print release. If you don’t see your devices listed, special arrangements will be made for testing. If you have any questions or problems with the new default setting, please contact the HelpDesk at 715.261.6710 or x6710.

WAUSAU WEST HIGH SCHOOL CAREERS CLASS TOURS
NCHC AND MOUNT VIEW CARE CENTER
Thank You to Food Services and MVCC Staff!

Tours are becoming quite regular around the Wausau Campus these days. Several schools have visited us over the last several months. Last week, Wausau West students interested in careers in healthcare visited NCHC and MVCC to learn about opportunities within our systems of care. The class was greeted at the Welcome Desk by Human Resources and Communications and Marketing staff, given a brief introduction to NCHC and then given the opportunity to get a hands-on look at what we do here. They were split into two groups. One group began with Kristy Lemmer and toured the kitchen and Food Services. They donned their hairnets and got an insider view of where that fabulous food comes from. The other group, walked down to MVCC to talk with a Northwinds Vent Community resident, who shared her personal story. Then they met with Cagney Martin, MVCC staff development specialist, and learned what it was like to live life as an older adult. They got to experience aging eyes, reduction in use of their hands and deficits in hearing, all with a special exercise designed from our NCHC Stop, Starting It training. The students left with a lasting impression of how we serve our communities in a variety of ways. Thank you to all the staff who participated!

ADULT PROTECTIVE SERVICES TEAM

All across Wisconsin, childhood adversity is hiding in plain sight.

The Wisconsin ACE Interface curriculum provides communities with an introduction to adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) and brain development. Trainees from nearly 30 Wisconsin child welfare, human service and other agencies volunteer their time and resources to facilitate the first step in the creation of self-helping communities.

About Wisconsin ACE Interface trainings

Our volunteer trainers teach schools, health systems, law enforcement agencies and other community groups to identify and respond to the toxic stress of childhood adversity.

Following curriculum developed by Laura Porter, co-founder of ACE Interface, LLC, and Dr. Robert Anda, co-principal investigator of the original ACEs study, the Wisconsin ACE Interface is geared toward building self-helping communities.

Wisconsin ACE Interface mission:

Promote awareness of ACEs throughout Wisconsin to create a shift in perspective in how we view health and social issues and to inspire a new approach to building healthy and resilient communities.

UPCOMING TRAININGS:

January 29, 2019 | 4:45pm
March 13, 2019 | 4:45pm
June 6, 2019 | 4:45pm

All trainings will be hosted at the Wisconsin Police Department Community Room.

Anyone is welcome to attend!

RESILIENCE
Let’s Talk About Your Mental Health

Our mental health is as important as our physical health and requires much of the same care. They often go hand in hand. A part of our mental health is Resilience, the ability to get through tough times and bounce back from adversity. Here are some tips from the Aspirus Wellness Center:

Being resilient is especially important in our work within health care. As we are ever changing and growing, we have more demands placed in front of us and can have changing responsibilities; we need to build our resilience skills to thrive in our workplace.

Stay flexible – Understanding that things won’t always go as planned will help you be flexible with the situation and giving yourself some grace.

Learn from experience – Take a look at how you’ve coped with stress and difficulties in the past. You may already have healthy coping skills you are using, or maybe you realize that there are areas to improve. Understanding past patterns can help guide future behavior.

Remain hopeful – Don’t let stress or difficulties get you down. Try to remain optimistic about the future.

Take care of yourself – Take action to keep yourself healthy so you are better able to handle stressful events. This includes keeping yourself healthy both physically and emotionally.

Be proactive – Don’t ignore problems. Try to handle situations as they arise, figure out a plan and take action.

Get connected – Making connections will be important in helping build resiliency.

Make every day meaningful – Find something each and every day that gives you meaning. Whether you actively do something meaningful or find it hidden in your everyday.

Building and creating resiliency in our life is important for a number of reasons. It can help us to stay balanced in difficult times of our lives, allows us to develop tools for protection against overwhelming experiences, protects us from developing some mental health difficulties, lowers absences from work, reduces risk taking behaviors, and increases community or family activities.

SITUATIONAL AWARENESS TRAINING
Violence. It happens around us every day.
We hear about it on the radio. See it on TV. Read about it on social media. What can you do to protect yourself from violence? One of the best ways to survive an incident is to be aware and have a game plan if something happens near you. You can start by attending a 1-hour Situational Awareness training being offered to all staff, led by Bob Wilcox, NCHC Law Enforcement Liaison (super awesome individual and we can’t say enough good things about him – his words, of course).

So what is Situational Awareness? Situational Awareness or “SA” is a frame of mind in which you are relaxed yet aware of your surroundings and also aware of whom or what could be of help to you if a problem were to arise. This 1-hour training will provide you with information so that you can feel better prepared to handle an adverse situation.

Please register in HealthStream to attend one of the following sessions in the Theater:

- Monday, February 18 1:00pm – 2:00pm Theater
- Monday, February 18 3:30pm – 4:30pm Theater
- Tuesday, February 19 6:30am – 7:30am Theater
- Tuesday, February 19 10:00am – 11:00am Theater
- Tuesday, February 26 6:30am – 7:30am Theater
- Tuesday, February 26 10:30am – 11:30am Theater

- Wednesday, February 27 3:30pm – 4:30pm Theater

NOTE: These sessions are available for all employees to attend, however some staff are required to attend. Please log into HealthStream to view your assignments and electives. Questions? Please contact Mary Jo in Organizational Development at 715-841-5162 or mmonday@norcen.org
