WEEKLY CONNECTION WITH MICHAEL LOY

Positivity All Around

With each weekly newsletter I usually focus on one major topic but this week there is so much I can write about that I am going to offer four major highlights this week.

Celebration of Life Ceremony

Did you know that over the last year at Mount View Care Center we served 119 individuals in their final days? On June 13, our Activities team put together a Celebration of Life Ceremony for the 119 souls who passed away over the last year here at Mount View. The celebration was for our staff, other residents who became their friends, resident families and others. It was simply beautiful. For me it is such a privilege and honor for our organization to be part of the lives of so many people in their last journey of life. Thank you to the Activities staff, especially Melissa Stockwell for putting together something so very special. If anyone asks why there were 119 (eco-friendly) balloons flying over the south east side of Wausau on Thursday night, just tell them each balloon had an angel by its side.

World Elder Abuse Awareness

I pulled out my lone purple dress shirt on Friday to support World Elder Abuse Awareness Day on June 15, 2019. Share your purple photos on social media on Friday, June 14 or Saturday, June 15 with #StopElderAbuse. Every June 15th, supporters of World Elder Abuse Awareness Day wear purple around the globe to show they care about ending elder abuse and neglect. Thank you to Brenda Christian and the entire Adult Protective Service staff for leading the community awareness work on this very important issue. Every year, an estimated five million Americans (approximately 1 in 10 older adults) experience elder abuse, neglect, or exploitation. Learn the signs and help us make a difference in reducing the prevalence of elder abuse.

Certified Nursing Assistant Week

This week we celebrated our Certified Nursing Assistants as part of the National Nursing Assistant Week to recognize the work Certified Nursing Assistants do each day. Our Certified Nursing Assistants are extremely hard workers. They do a lot of lifting, transfers, feeding, bathing and toileting. There are a lot of skills involved but more than anything each of our Certified Nursing Assistants have a lot of heart. We are incredibly lucky to have an awesome CNA team here at NCHC. There were a lot of fun activities to celebrate this week and I want to end the week by saying THANK YOU to each and every one of our CNAs in every program for being the very best.

Lincoln Industries

North Central Health Care has operated Adult Day and Prevocational Services for Langlade and Marathon County for adults with developmental disabilities for many years. In Lincoln County, these programs are operated under the Social Services Department. Next week on Tuesday June, 18th, the Lincoln County Board will be voting on whether NCHC will take on the Lincoln County Adult Day, Prevocational and Demand Transportation services for Lincoln County starting January 1, 2020. If approved, we would have a truly regionalized model for providing these very important programs and services. If approved, we will be adding about 20 new team members to the NCHC team and many wonderful consumers. Look for more to come on this transition soon.

Make it a great day,

Elder Abuse Awareness!

This week, NCHC and several community partners brought to the public’s attention the need to take action to stop elder abuse. Weeks of planning drew the attention of our local media partners who shared the messages, training opportunities and efforts throughout Marathon, Lincoln and Langlade Counties. Thank you to all those who provided their expertise at trainings regarding schemes, scams, dementia and elder abuse prevention.

Now as never before, attention is being directed to care of our elder and disabled citizens and greater attention also is directed to the workers who provide hands-on-care and caring. The 42nd annual National Nursing Assistants’ Week provides a timely opportunity to foster and showcase the wonderful things that can happen for residents and workers in the nursing field. During this week we honor and thank

Residential Assistants

These great employees work at nursing homes, home care, hospice, hospitals, correctional institutions, schools and other long term care settings, but we especially would like to thank our amazing employees here at NCHC! Prevention of Heat Stress

A new look at data from Minnesota and Wisconsin found that teens and adults 15 to 34 years old in both states are the most likely to visit the emergency department for heat-related illness.

This finding was somewhat surprising, as the majority of public health alerts during heat waves focus on the very young and the very old since they are at higher risk for death and longer hospitalizations. This work highlights that teens and younger adults, particularly those involved in athletics or working outdoors, also need to take steps to prevent heat-related illnesses. (https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/news/releases/053019.htm)

Heat cramps are an early sign of a potential heat illness. Heat cramps usually affect people who sweat a lot during strenuous activity. This sweating depletes the body's salt and moisture. The low salt level in the muscles may be the cause of heat cramps. Heat cramps may also be a symptom of heat exhaustion.

Heat cramps are muscle pains or spasms—usually in the abdomen, arms, or legs—that may occur in association with strenuous activity. If you have heart problems or are on a low-sodium diet, get medical attention for heat cramps.

If medical attention is not necessary, take these steps:

• Stop all activity, and sit quietly in a cool place.

• Drink clear juice or a sports beverage.

• Do not return to strenuous activity for a few hours after the cramps subside, because further exertion may lead to heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

• Seek medical attention for heat cramps if they do not subside in one hour. (https://uhs.umich.edu/heatrelief#heatcramps)

Prevention is key to heat illness:

• Cut back on strenuous outdoor activity. Exercise during the early morning or late evening hours when heat and ozone levels are at the lowest levels of the day.

• If you must be outdoors, try to limit your outdoor activity to morning and evening hours. Rest often in shade or air-conditioning so that your body's thermostat will have a chance to recover.

• Drink plenty of hydrating fluids (avoid alcohol). Increase your fluid intake, regardless of your activity level. Don't wait until you're thirsty to drink. (If your health care provider generally limits the amount of fluid you drink or has you on water pills, ask how much you should drink while the weather is hot.) Avoid very cold drinks, because they can cause stomach cramps.

• Replace salts and minerals, which are lost through heavy sweating. A sports beverage can replace the salt and minerals you lose in sweat. However, if you are on a low-salt diet, talk with your health care provider before drinking a sports beverage or taking salt tablets.

• Wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing. Dress infants and children in cool, loose clothing and shade their heads and faces with hats or an umbrella.

We are taking appointments for Sports Physicals. Call the Employee Health and Wellness Center for an appointment at 715-843-1256. Hours are Monday-Wednesday-Friday 8am-4:30pm, Tuesday 6:30am-3pm, and Thursday 10am-6:30pm.
